IMB

WINTER SCHOOL AWARDS

Winter School in Mathematical & Computational Biology is the premier and largest bioinformatics training event in Australia, which is held at the Institute for Molecular Science.

ABOUT IMB

UQ's Institute for Molecular Bioscience (IMB) is a global leader in multidisciplinary life sciences research. IMB brings together 500 researchers, students and support staff from across the globe, using life sciences research for disease discovery, application and sustainable futures.

IMB students can undertake research across our:

DIVISIONS

- > Chemistry and Structural Biology
- > Genomics of Development and Disease
- > Cell Biology and Molecular Medicine

CENTRES

- > IMB Centre for Pain Research
- > IMB Centre for Inflammation Research
- > IMB Centre for Solar Biotechnology
- > IMB Centre for Superbug Solutions
- > UQ Centre for Cardiac & Vascular Biology
- > UQ Project Three Billion

Eligibility:

Confirmed, full-time, IMB PhD students
